Stennis, Colmer Co-operate

WASHINGTON, D. C. - With regard to acquisition of land or easements in the buffer zone for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) test facility in Pearl River and Hancock counties, Miss., I have the following statement for release:

When the government takes a major easement in property, as in this case, it largely takes the property. Under these circumstances, I feel it is only fair and right that the government make an offer for the entire property. I have urged and shall continue to urge the space administration to make such offers to those property owners in the buffer zone.

I suggest that all interested parties who prefer an outright purchase of their property, rather than the purchase of an easement therein, make a personal request accordingly to the U. S. Engineers at their office in Bay St. Louis. These requests should be made early because this course will require two appraisals.

I shall continue to urge adoption of these alternative offers.

Regards
JOHN STENNIS
U. S. States Senator

July 19, 1962

Colonel D. A. Raymond
District Engineer
Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army
P. O. Box 1169
Mobile, Alabama

My dear Colonel Raymond:
I am enclosing herewith, for your consideration, a rather detailed article in the New Orleans States-Item of July 14th on the appraisals in the Mississippi Test Facility area.

I understand through the National Aeronautics Administration that the Corps of Engineers has announced that you will bring your negotiations for land in the test area to a close on July 28th and that any land not acquired by negotiation by then will be condemned. I understand further that NASA has granted you permission to give favorable consideration to owners who would experience hardships if required to vacate their property by August 1st.

While I can appreciate that some deadline has to be fixed for negotiation, I was frankly disturbed by the attached article. I am sure that it is not the Corps of Engineers desire to be unfair to anyone in this area, and I am frankly puzzled by the apparent inequity pointed out in this article. Congress authorized and is in the process of appropriating sufficient funds to acquire this land at a fair and reasonable price, and I feel that no one who is being displaced should be hurt financially as the result of the location of this facility. The enclosed article suggests that some of them will be hurt if they accept the offers made to them, and if they refuse to accept such offers they will be put to the expense of hiring an attorney to represent them in the condemnation proceedings.

Under date of June 4th I called your attention to several complaints from land owners that I had received. Colonel Ledbetter advised me under date of June 8th that the Chief of Engineers had sent one of his most experienced land appraisers to investigate the complaints and that the appraisers would report his recommendations to the Chief of Engineers. Colonel Ledbetter said further that you were to meet with a land owners committee. I have heard nothing further direct from you or from the Chief of Engineers about the matter.

I certainly hope that your office will investigate the inconsistencies indicated in the cases cited in the enclosed article. If the information given in the story is factual, I think that negotiations should not be closed until these inconsistencies are resolved. Since the Government is taking over this property, against the wishes of the inhabitants of the area, it seems to me that the Government can do it to compensate these people adequately.

I shall appreciate very much your advising a copy of this letter to the Chief of Engineers here for his information. Thanking you, I am,
Sincerely yours,
BILL COLMER

Reports on fishing show that on a general average various fish are being caught most everywhere. Green trout mostly in Pearl River have been really striking lately. There are a number of throw backs, but included in catches are some large ones.

Speckles have been hitting at half moon, not too large, but good pan size. This is an indication they are coming in.

Some Spanish Mackerel have been caught along the R. R. bridge, according to Raoul Telhaud, who caught 10 the other day. Raoul has been fishing these waters for quite some time, and knows his stuff about catching fish. The Spanish Mackerel, its sides are covered with dull orange spots on both sides. A real fighter when hooked and generally found in large schools.

Mackerel usually appear in this territory about this time of the year and are caught by still fishing with minnows, (shiners) and by trolling. Like the King Mackerel they are an excellent sea food, but are much smaller. In the Bay they are mostly caught along the R. R. Bridge.

Joe Glover, (on vacation) has been catching some nice hard crabs. Joe makes his own crab nets. He has been catching some nice green trout. He and August Rauxet caught the limit Sunday. Joe said he has never seen them strike like that before.

Joe Fauchaux and Joe Voelkel have been catching a mess of fish each time they go out. They said they must keep the frying pan going while on vacation. With a few soft and hard crabs sea food has been the main dish most every day.

A Mississippi Fish and Game Commission official said the accumulation of dead fish gathering in Gulfport lake, Bayou Bernard and other fresh water areas, is caused by a species of salt water fish which perish after entering bodies of fresh water.

George Boone, district supervisor for the fish and game commission at Gulfport, said the dead fish belong to the menhaden species of salt water fish.

According to Boone, the menhaden, a trash fish, is very similar in appearance to the fresh water shad, a sport fish. "Many people are mistaking the dead menhaden for the fresh water shad," Boone observed.

Harrison county health director Dr. A. N. Morphy said his department was informed of the accumulation of dead fish Thursday and subsequently relayed the information to the game and fish commission officials.

"There is no health hazard involved at this time," Dr. Morphy reported. On that basis, the director said incidents of this nature fall into the activity of the fish and game commission.

Roy Baxter has a real fishing camp at Logtown on Bayou Doga Home. Roy has launching facilities for most any size boats, metal boats with motors can be rented at nominal fee and housing for speed hounds is available. Roy's Camp is located in one of the best fresh water fishing localities here about. Bait and fishing tackle can be purchased.

Give Roy a visit and enjoy some real fishing.

Little things that count
It's the little things that fool big fish.

For instance—too many fishermen carefully plan only the big things like wangling the time to go fishing, locating a boat, place to fish, outsmarting the wife, etc., and neglect to remember these tidbits which are all important to him who would mess up a skillet.

ACCURACY...Learn to be an accurate caster. Overshooting or underhooking the target not only loses up the good places but it tears down your estimation of your fishing ability.

Gain confidence in yourself by developing accuracy at home, in your back yard, pick out any target and cast at it until you can hit it without thinking about fundamentals. Once you have mastered accuracy you have surmounted the greatest obstacle facing most fishermen.

Bobby Fayard and Jack Garrija, were after green trout Sunday. Didn't do so hot, said Bobby—remember boys the fish are in the main river these days. Too hot up in the bayous.

Floundering has picked up a little lately. With this kind of tide the flounders are being caught up Jordan River.

Leo Choina said he caught a small fish, but he didn't catch his share.

Cy Coates of Houston is on his old fishing rig. He says he's a green trout up in the bayous. An action fisherman he is.

MONEY-SAVERS

Answers to 8 questions on car care that Shell dealers often hear

Shell dealers answer thousands of questions every year. Here are 8 that crop up all the time. The answers have helped many motorists save money. They may do the same for you.

1 What's that funny noise I hear? All cars make some noise. But be particularly alert for any squeals, squeaks, clicks, or rattles that crop up suddenly. Could be anything from a sticking valve lifter to a loose wheel lug. Ask your Shell dealer to help you track down any unusual noise. You may save yourself a big repair bill later on.

2 How can I get more mileage from my tires? Rotate all tires, including the spare, every 6,000 miles. Drive at moderate speeds. Tires can wear twice as fast at 70 miles per hour as at 45. Avoid fast cornering, "jackrabbit" starts, sudden stops. Try not to bang tires against curbs. And check your tire pressure frequently.

3 Do I really need a lube job every thousand miles? Yes—unless you have one of the newer models that doesn't require it. But with any car, remember that frequent lubrication offers your serviceman a chance to spot trouble before it costs you a lot of money. That's why Shell dealers give you a bumper-to-bumper inspection with every Shell lubrication.

4 Can knock hurt my engine? Usually it's more annoying than harmful. But persistent knocking hampers performance and can lead to engine damage. That's why Shell scientists are such sticklers about knock. They even listen for it with stethoscopes and insist that Super Shell contain no fewer than three knock-fighting ingredients.

5 How can I make my battery last longer? Here are four suggestions: 1. Let your Shell dealer check your car's electrical system. Worn wires and loose connections can drain power. 2. Always maintain battery water to the proper level. 3. Avoid prolonged idling with radio turned on. 4. Go driving! Long drives help charge your battery.

6 What does TCP do? Shell's unique TCP* is a combustion control additive. The hot piston device above shows one way TCP works. The glowing deposit on the left has not been neutralized with TCP. In your engine, glowing deposits can ignite fuel too soon, wasting fuel and power. Deposit on right has been "fireproofed" by TCP. No glow — no power loss.

7 How often should I change oil? The American Petroleum Institute recommends an oil change every 30 days in winter, every 60 days during summer.

8 Why do my tires wear out on just one side? Most likely cause: wheels out of alignment. Result: your tires drag against the road and wear unevenly. Unbalanced wheels can also cause uneven wear and make your car shake or shimmy. That's why it's a good idea to keep tires balanced and have wheel alignment checked twice a year.

Now a question for you
Is your car giving you top performance? If there's any doubt in your mind, try a tankful of today's Super Shell. It contains 9 ingredients including a gum preventive, three knock-fighters, "cat-cracked" gasoline, a mileage booster, an anti-icer, quick-starting Butane, and Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

OBJECTION TO VALUE OF LAND TEST SITE BUFFER ZONE

There was presented to the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, a petition bearing the signatures of five hundred fourteen parties owning land in "the buffer zone and the test site" for the NASA Project, protesting the values that had been offered on the lands belonging to peoples living in both the test site and the buffer zone.

The petition is self explanatory and the Board having considered same is very definitely of the opinion that the factual situation, set forth in said petition, is well founded.

The petition itself, in substance, is to the effect that the parties, whose names appear thereon, will not enter into an agreement to sell their lands or lease same to the United States Government unless a fair and reasonable price be offered.

The Board wholeheartedly agree with the attitude of these people and pledges their sincere, consistent and persistent efforts to assist in any and every way possible to prevail upon the United States Senators, representing the great State of Mississippi, to see that a fair and equitable price is offered and paid to the landowners hereinabove mentioned.

It is the further opinion of the Board that in addition to the efforts of this Board with the United States Senators, as herein expressed, that they will collectively and individually lend their support to any effort that may be made to obtain fair, just and equitable compensation to these displaced people, for the loss of their land and homes.

The Clerk of this Board is hereby ordered and directed to send a true copy of this resolution to both United States Senators, as in above mentioned, and to advise the Senators of the displeasure of this Board, at the inequitable prices that have been offered by the United States Government to the peoples of Hancock County who own land, both in the test site and in the buffer zone.

The above order was unanimously adopted after motion made by Supervisor Russ and seconded by Supervisor Frierson.

SEMINAR FOR HOME DEM. AGENTS AT STATE COLLEGE JULY 30/AUG. 2

State College, Miss. — Mississippi Home demonstration agents, together with their associates and assistants, will take time out from their busy teaching to become students, from July 30 through August 2.

They will attend a seminar especially for them at Mississippi State University, according to Miss Earle Gaddis, state home demonstration agent of the Agricultural Extension Service. Their instructors will include faculty members from several different schools of the University.

Mississippi is the first state to offer this kind of professional improvement to Extension Service agents.

"Probably the main object of this seminar is to further acquaint the home agents with the resources of their Land-Grant University, Mississippi State University, that can help them to do a better job in their counties. As modern educators, they must know how to work with people in solving problems broader than the fields of agriculture and home economics," Miss Gaddis explained.

DENTAL CARE - PRESCHOOL CHILDREN

According to a study made by the State Board of Health, most of our State's preschool children are badly in need of dental care.

The survey involved children from two to five years of age in two typical Mississippi counties.

Dr. Aaron Trubman, Supervisor of Public Health Dentistry, said: "Parents evidently do not realize that the lack of care of the deciduous teeth - often called 'baby teeth' - can and usually does lead to later difficulties in permanent teeth eruption and alignment. Dr. Trubman urges the parent who wants maximum dental health for his child to begin regular visits to the dentist right after the deciduous teeth come in to place, which is usually when the child is two and one-half years of age."

URGE COLLEGE GRADUATES ENTER FORESTRY RESEARCH

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Senator John Stennis today urged more college graduates to enter forestry research, and he asked for additional forest surveys.

Testifying before the House Agricultural Subcommittee on Forestry, Stennis spoke in favor of two bills which he had earlier introduced in the Senate.

The first bill, which Stennis introduced a year ago on behalf of Senator Eastland and Senator Aiken of Vermont, would "stimulate the training of graduate forestry researchers" at land-grant and state-supported colleges and universities.

Stennis said the forestry research program "would benefit the nation" by accomplishing three things:

(1) It would open a new avenue to strengthen and stimulate forestry research at State colleges and universities.

(2) It would bring the skills of additional scientists to bear on difficult forestry problems.

(3) It would stimulate the training of graduate forestry researchers so badly needed by private and public research institutions and agencies.

The second bill would increase by one million dollars the authorization of funds for conducting nationwide forest surveys of timber sources and related data.

The present amount of $1,500,000 for that work has been the authorized maximum since the original bill was adopted in 1928.

NEGRO PRIEST SYMPATHY TO PARENTS OF HER WHITE YOUTH

Very Rev. Harold R. Perry, S. V. D., rector of the Divine Word Seminary at Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi expressed today the sympathy of his racially mixed religious community at the death on July 17 of the heroic white youth, Bruce Richmond. His letter to the bereaved parents of the young Metairie, Louisiana hero reads as follows:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Richmond: Please accept the heartfelt sympathy of Divine Word Missionaries at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi at the most sorrowful death of your son, Bruce.

"His nobly unselfish and heroic act in saving the life of a drowning Negro youth on Tuesday, July 17 has inspired all of us.

Your brave son, at the tender age of twelve, was chosen by providence to teach men everywhere the forgotten beauty of brotherly love. You, his parents, are to be congratulated, even in your great sorrow, for instilling in your son this high ideal. "Greater love than this no man has, than to lay down his life for a friend."
